

Mecanix provides professional services to organizations seeking assistance with their ThoughtFarmer implementation. It is our job to ensure that ThoughtFarmer is embedded into your day to day operations and becomes a critical part of the way you communicate internally.

We work hand in hand with ThoughtFarmer to ensure your customer experience is seamless from the time you purchase your software to the final integration into your business. We can help you with:

- The layout and design of your ThoughtFarmer application, including the structure and navigation. We review your current communication methods and work with you in translating them into a more effective way to share information
- Data migration – moving your existing documents, photos and other communication pieces into ThoughtFarmer
- Training your employees on how to use ThoughtFarmer and leverage it in your daily business operations now and in the future
- The launch and rollout activities to celebrate the introduction of ThoughtFarmer into your organization

Why use Mecanix Professional Services?

We are professionals in operational consulting including core skills such as project management, process improvement and change management. The successful integration of tools, processes and people allows us to help you extract the maximum return on investment in the shortest period of time. Our expertise in business operations and holistic approach to systems implementations will ensure ThoughtFarmer aligns to how you do business.

Mecanix has:

- Expertise in designing the structure and navigation of communication tools including intranets
- Expertise in designing communication strategies – what gets communicated, how, to whom, and how often
- Expertise in communication methods, language, and content which support and align to companies' strategies, visions, values and most importantly, culture
- Expertise in building and delivering training programs on systems and processes
- A lot of “fun” in our projects, and what can be more fun than having a new way to communicate internally? We understand intranet culture including wikis, blogs, social networks and how to leverage them.

Contact Mecanix at ++1 604 682 4250